

Witches Falls Cottages Newsletter - January 2008

'Lingering Lovers'

Now with Santa and his elves back at work after a busy Christmas rushing around the world filling all those Christmas stockings it is our turn to be busy bees. We will be closing the cottages after the Australia Day Weekend on the 29th January to the 28th February as we do some major renovations and that means we'll be closed for Valentines Day. But don't be alarmed! For newsletter subscribers next month we'll have a great special offer for you to come back and book in for a late Valentines get-away during March and another chance to visit us in the rainforest and see our new look! Why you don't surprise your lover with a Gift Voucher on Valentines Day?

For those who want to visit us in January before we close we still have some available spots! SPECIAL OFFER: Visit us midweek over the next two weeks and get a free bottle of wine from one of the local wineries with every two night booking OR stay for three nights and get the third night free!

The mountain has received much wonderful rain - our waterfalls are flowing, the birds are eternally happy and many of our rainforest plants are sending out spectacular flowers and new shoots. It is indeed a magnificent sight!

Witches Falls National Park
The lagoon is full in Witches Falls National Park!

We'd also like to let those know who are following the Bluedog Photography Retreats that since we won't be open during the February retreat we are donating a night's accommodation to those registering.

Another fantastic chance to come back to our mountain and practice those photography skills! For more on the Bluedog Photography Workshops and Retreats visit: www.blue-dog.com.au

Kind regards
Daniela and David
